This document is an outline of coverage proposed by the carrier(s), based on information provided by your company. It does not include all of the terms, coverage, exclusions, limitations, and conditions of the actual contract language. The policies and contracts themselves must be read for those details. Policy forms for your reference will be made available upon request.

The intent of this document is to provide you with general information regarding the status of, and/or potential concerns related to, your current employee benefits environment. It does not necessarily fully address all of your specific issues. It should not be construed as, nor is it intended to provide, legal advice. Questions regarding specific issues should be addressed by your general counsel or an attorney who specializes in this practice area.

This Employee Benefits Guide highlights recent plan design changes and is intended to fully comply with the requirements under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA") as a Summary of Material Modifications and should be kept with your most recent Summary Plan Description.

OPEN ENROLLMENT

PASSIVE ENROLLMENT! If you don't enroll in coverage via the ADP system, your current elections WILL roll forward into the 2022 plan year, but new benefits are available, so be sure to review your options.

What Do I Need to Do During Open Enrollment?

1. Review the enclosed information carefully and decide if you want to make any changes.
2. You will be receiving an email with a link to your Open Enrollment portal.
3. REMEMBER! The choices you make will stay in effect until December 31, 2022, unless you experience a life status change (more details on page 4). Doing nothing means your current plan participation will continue.

Important note regarding Variable Hour Employee Benefit Eligibility:

The Spencer Ogden benefit plan is available to full-time employees who are regularly scheduled to work at least 30 hours a week. Contract positions at Spencer Ogden are generally full-time roles for a set duration. However, given the contingent nature of these roles, the length of the assignment and the hours worked per week are sometimes difficult to estimate. The Affordable Care Act allows employers to delay benefit eligibility if they "cannot determine whether the employee is reasonably expected to be employed on an average at least 30 hours of service per week (or 120 hours per month for a 4 week month, or 150 hours per month for a 5 week month) during the initial measurement period because the employee's hours are variable or otherwise uncertain".

Spencer Ogden will invite all employees working a full-time schedule, regardless of duration, to participate in the benefit program as new hires effective the first of the month following date of hire. However, the variable hours analysis will be done twice per year, at Open Enrollment and on the employee's employment anniversary. This analysis will look back over the period since hire or the past year and confirm that the person has maintained a full-time schedule. If so, eligibility will continue until the next evaluation period (Open Enrollment or anniversary date). If not, the employee will be informed that benefit coverage is being terminated because they are no longer in an eligible benefit class as a variable hour employee. The employee will remain in this status until the next evaluation period (referred to as the Standard Measurement Period, or SMP). If the employee is currently working on a project and ceases to work, benefit reinstatement will be automatic upon rehire if rehired within 30 days. For new hires and those who are rehired beyond a 30 day period, any benefits the employee is eligible for will become effective the first of the following month.

Information regarding the Affordable Care Act (ACA):

- Spencer Ogden offers a minimum value plan and the self-only coverage meets an affordability safe harbor which generally means that you are not eligible for a subsidy in the Marketplace.
- All employees will receive a 1095-C form and 1095-B form for the current calendar year at the beginning of the following plan year. This form indicates what coverage was offered and for what months an employee and his family had coverage. Note that individuals do not pay a penalty for failure to have coverage.

ELIGIBILITY

Who is Eligible for Coverage?

All full-time employees who are regularly scheduled to work 30 hours per week are eligible for benefits on the first of the month following date of hire.

Children are eligible for coverage up to age 26, regardless of student status, tax dependent status, residence or marital status.

Dependent means:

- Your spouse or domestic partner (Certification is required; see page 10 for important information regarding payroll deductions for domestic partners)
- Children up to age 26
- A child of any age who is medically certified as disabled and dependent on the parent for support

Child means:

- Your natural child; or your legally adopted child, including a child for whom the employee is a party in a suit seeking adoption;
- Your stepchild; or
- A child for whom legal guardianship has been awarded to the employee or employee's spouse.

Making Enrollment Changes During the Year

During each annual enrollment period, you will have the opportunity to review your benefit elections and make changes for the coming year, so in most cases, your benefit elections remain in effect for the entire plan year.

Certain coverages allow limited changes to elections during the year. Under these benefits, you may only make changes to your elections during the year if you have a change in family status.

Family status changes include:

- Marriage or divorce
- Gain or loss of an eligible dependent for reasons such as birth, adoption, court order, disability, death, marriage, or reaching the dependent child age limit
- Changes in your spouse's employment affecting benefit eligibility
- Changes in your spouse's benefit coverage with another employer that affects benefit eligibility

The change to your benefit elections must be consistent with the change in family status. For example, if you gain a new dependent due to birth, you may change your benefit elections to add that dependent. You have 31 days from the date of a family status change to turn in a completed enrollment change form to soinsurance@spencer-ogden.com. Otherwise, you must wait until the next annual enrollment period to make a change to your elections. In most cases, your election will become effective the date of the qualified event.

YOUR MEDICAL COVERAGE

About Your Medical Coverage

When you elect coverage under the Spencer Ogden Plan you are covered with Cigna. Over the next few pages, you will be provided an overview of your benefits, along with many practical tips for taking advantage of what our plans have to offer so you can take control of your health and well-being.

Your Medical Benefits...In Your Hands

How Does Your Medical Plan Work?

In-network benefits are summarized above, and while out-of-network benefits are available, you pay less out-of-pocket if you visit contracted in-network providers with Cigna. Keep in mind that your health plan pays the allowed amount for services and supplies. In-network providers agree to accept the allowed amount as payment in full. When you use out-of-network providers, you must pay the difference between the allowed amount and the provider's charge in addition to any deductibles and coinsurance amounts that may apply.

You are responsible for all expenses until you have met your deductible. Then you share the cost of your care through coinsurance until you meet your out-of-pocket maximum for the year.

You do not have to meet your deductible for in-network office visits and prescription drug copays, but they do count towards the out-of-pocket maximum.

NOTE! There are separate out-of-pocket maximums for medical expenses and prescription drugs. They do not cross-accumulate. Once you meet the Prescription Drug Out-of-Pocket Maximum, covered prescription drugs will be paid for by plan 100%

WHERE to Go for CARE

Care Center	Why would I use this care center?	What type of care would they provide?	What are the cost and time considerations?
Doctor's Office 	You need routine care or treatment for a current health issue. Your primary doctor knows you and your health history, can access your medical records, provide preventive and routine care, manage your medications and refer you to a specialist, if necessary.	• Routine checkups • Immunizations • Preventive services • Manage your general health	• Often requires a copayment and/or coinsurance • Normally requires an appointment • Little wait time with scheduled appointment
Telemedicine 	It's the weekend, after hours or you just don't have time to see your doctor. Your condition is not urgent or an emergency. Request a visit with a doctor 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, by web, phone or mobile app. Doctors will review your medical history and can diagnose you over the phone. If necessary, a prescription will be sent to your pharmacy.	• Minor illnesses • Minor infections • Cold and flu symptoms • Bronchitis • Allergies	• Employees enrolled in the medical plan have access to telemedicine • No appointment necessary • Calls are usually returned in 30 minutes or less
Convenience Care 	You can't get to your doctor's office, but your condition is not urgent or an emergency. Convenience care clinics are often located in malls or retail stores offering services for minor health conditions. Staffed by nurse practitioners and physician assistants.	• Common infections (e.g. strep throat) • Minor skin conditions (e.g. poison ivy) • Flu shots • Pregnancy tests • Ear Aches	• Often requires a copayment and/or coinsurance similar to office visit • Walk in patients welcome with no appointments necessary, but wait times can vary
Urgent Care 	You may need care quickly, but it is not an emergency, and your primary physician may not be available. Urgent care centers offer treatment for non-life threatening injuries or illnesses. Staffed by qualified physicians.	• Sprains • Strains • Minor broken bones (e.g. finger) • Minor infections • Minor burns	• Often requires a copayment and/or coinsurance usually higher than an office visit • Walk in patients welcome, but waiting periods may be longer as patients with more urgent needs will be treated first
Emergency Room 	You need immediate treatment of a very serious or critical condition. The ER is for the treatment of life-threatening or very serious conditions that require immediate medical attention. Do not ignore an emergency. If a situation seems life threatening, take action. Call 911 or your local emergency number right away.	• Heavy bleeding • Sudden change in vision • Chest pain • Sudden weakness or trouble walking • Major burns • Severe head injury • Difficulty breathing • Major broken bones	• Often requires a much higher copayment and/or coinsurance than an office visit or urgent care visit • Open 24/7, but waiting periods may be longer because patients with life-threatening emergencies will be treated first

Freestanding ERs

Many people have been surprised by their bill after visiting a freestanding emergency room (FSER). FSERs, sometimes referred to as urgency centers, bill at ER rates (or higher) and can be $1,500 more than an Urgent Care Center. Neither located in nor attached to a hospital, FSERs are able to treat similar conditions as an ER but do not have an ER's ability to admit patients.

Ask before you enter:

- Is this an urgent care center or an ER?
- Is this facility an in-network provider?

VIRTUAL VISITS

Getting sick is never convenient, and finding time to get to the doctor can be hard. Cigna provides you and your covered dependents access to care for non-emergency medical issues through MDLIVE. Virtual visits can also be a better alternative than going to the emergency room or urgent care center.

Whether you're at home or traveling, access to a board-certified doctor is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. If you are enrolled in the PPO, the cost for this program is the same as your office visit copay.

MDLIVE doctors can help treat the following conditions and more:

General Health and Pediatric Care

- Allergies
- Cold/Flu
- Asthma
- Ear problems
- Nausea
- Pinkeye
- Sinus Infections
- Pinkeye

Behavioral Health

- Addiction
- Grief/Loss
- Bipolar disorders/ depression
- Trauma/PTSD
- Marriage/Relationship Issues
- Child/Adolescent Issues
- Eating Disorders

What you need to know about your medical, dental and vision payroll Deductions:

In most cases, Spencer Ogden employees' contributions for medical, dental, and vision coverage are deducted from their paychecks on a pre-tax basis, meaning before federal income taxes, state income taxes (in most cases), and FICA taxes are calculated and deducted.

Internal Revenue Code (I.R.C.) Section 125 defines which dependents are eligible for pre-tax deductions, and while domestic partners are eligible for benefits with Spencer Ogden, these dependents do not meet the definition of a tax dependent, so the domestic partner's portion of the contributions for medical, dental and vision coverage must be made on a post-tax basis.

What is Short Term Disability Insurance?

Disability Insurance is insurance that pays you a benefit in the event you become ill or injured in a non-work-related event and are unable to perform the functions of your job. Short Term Disability insurance replaces a portion of your income for a short period of time if you are unable to return to work. The amount of money you are able to receive through disability may be offset by other sources of income. This benefit is taxable if you do not pay the premiums.

What is a Pre-Existing Condition Limit?

A pre-existing condition is one for which you have seen a medical practitioner or taken medication for a diagnosed condition 12 months prior to your coverage effective date. Unum will not pay long term disability benefits for any disability resulting directly or indirectly from a condition existing 12 months prior to your coverage start date during the first 24 months you are insured under the plan.
